

Australasian Journal of Herpetology

Issue 23, 30 August 2014

Contents

A long overdue taxonomic rearrangement of the New Guinea Crowned Snakes, currently referred to the genus Aspidomorphus Fitzinger, 1843 (Serpentes:Elapidae). Raymond T. Hoser, 3-9.

Smythkukri hunneangorum a new species of Kukri Snake from Cambodia (Serpentes: Oligodonini: Smythkukri; Geddykukrius).Raymond T. Hoser, 10-12.

New snake taxa from Australasia, Asia and Africa. ... Raymond T. Hoser, 13-21.

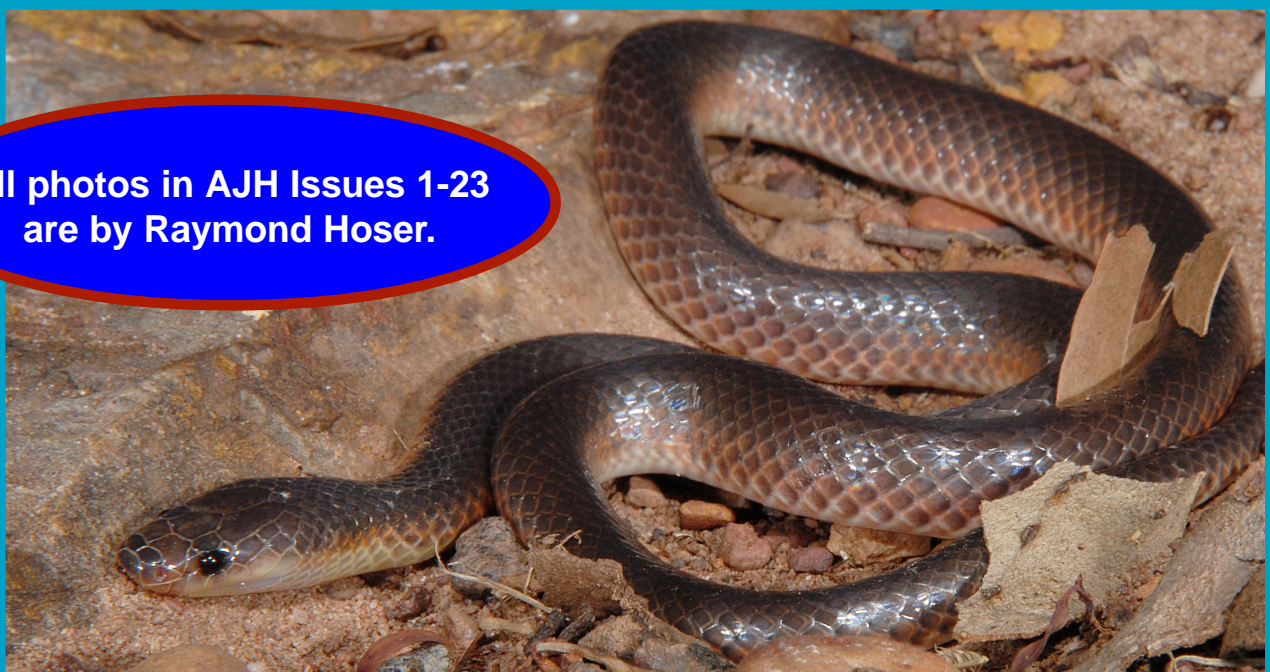

Tidying up Death Adder taxonomy (Serpentes: Elapidae: Acanthophis): including descriptions of new subspecies and the first ever key to identify all recognized species and subspecies within the genus. ... Raymond T. Hoser, 22-34.

From a history of genus mergers to an overdue break-up: A new and sensible taxonomy for the Asiatic Wolf Snakes Lycodon Boie, 1826 (Serpentes: Colubridae). ... Raymond T. Hoser, 35-51.

Korniliostyphlops a new genus of Blindsnake from the island of Socotra. ... Raymond T. Hoser, 52-53.

A long overdue taxonomic rearrangement of the Uromastycinae (Squamata: Sauria: Agamidae). ... Raymond T. Hoser, 54-64.

All photos in AJH Issues 1-23 are by Raymond Hoser.

Australasian Journal of Herpetology

Publishes original research in printed form in relation to reptiles, other fauna and related matters, including the subjects of classification, ecology, public interest, legal, captivity, exposure of frauds, "academic misconduct", etc. It is a peer reviewed printed journal published in hard copy for permanent public scientific record in accordance with the Zoological Code (Ride et al. 1999), with a sizeable print run and has a global audience.

Full details of acquiring copies, either printed or in identical form online, editorial policies, publication procedure, author submission guidelines, peer review guidelines, legal matters, advantages of publication in this journal and the like can be found by following links from:

<http://www.herp.net>

Published by Kotabi Pty Ltd
PO Box 599
Doncaster, Victoria, 3108.
Australia.

Copyright. All rights reserved.

Online journals (this issue) do not appear for a month after the actual and listed publication date of the printed journals. Minimum print run of first printings is always at least fifty hard copies.

ISSN 1836-5698 (Print)
ISSN 1836-5779 (Online)